

Beyond what an agent can already execute

Human demonstrations extend task coverage; controlled mistakes expose difficult critic judgments.

Perturbation and final judgment are human-reviewed steps; a negative attempt is not automatically a failure label.